CRAFT SALES: Mark Schroeder has completed 2 “crates” for the craft room so far. The water color painters group were invited to display some of their work when the room is ready. We had our crafts out for sale during election day and total gross sales were $239, however a percentage goes back to the crafters that make the dish towels and tote bags.

POPCORN MACHINE: The Senior Center may be getting a bar “table top” popcorn machine from Headwaters, however they would have the option to use it whenever they wanted. A small one was borrowed from the Health Dept. for use during the elections. The Center purchased popcorn and boxes through Indianhead food service. Total sales were $34.

CHRISTMAS PARTY: The Christmas party will be held on Sunday, December 16, 2012 at the Hideout Steakhouse in the Hodag Bowling Center. Cocktails at 4:00 p.m., dinner at 5:00 p.m. The dinner will be buffet style with choice of roast turkey breast, sirloin beef tips, parsley butter potatoes, steamed fresh veggies, house salad and French vanilla ice cream with peppermint stick. Cost will be $15 per person. Sign-up deadline is December 10. We have 22 gifts so far for the participants. Additional suggestions were poinsettias, cookie jar mixes, and cards made by the kids at Old School Arts and Learning Center.

ACCREDITATION: Cindy Moore and Mary Martin interviewed and wrote job descriptions on the meal drivers and lunch hostess/check in. Target date is January 1, 2013.

IINTERGENERATION DAY AT THE CENTER: Louise Perreault and Carrie Hacker will be bringing some of the kids over from Old School Arts and Learning Center on November 21. The older ones will help serve lunch and the younger ones will provide entertainment.

ACTIVITIES & VOLUNTEER COORDINATOR’S REPORT: Monthly activities were reviewed. Estate items we have stored for the springs rummage sale at the old WPS building will have to be removed A.S.A.P. so we need to find a new location. Volunteers will be checking out different places. Motion was made by J. Bessert to rent space if no donated place can be found, second by M. Meyer. Motion carried.
